Majority of the parents expressed satisfaction on the quality of the online classes and were pleased with the efforts and initiative undertaken by the department to hold classes on virtual platform.

MENTAL AND PHYSICAL WELLBEING

The parents expressed concern about mental and physical wellbeing of their wards as they are not able to attend classes physically - which means large amount of time is being spent online (gadgets) and less of physical activity. The parents also expressed concern for practical classes.

The faculty assured that completing assignments and regularly attending classes should help the students develop required skills.

FINANCIAL CHALLENGE AND CAREER DEVELOPMENT

Some of the parents shared their bitter experiences caused by COVID-19; especially its adverse effect on finance.

The faculty outlined various options available to counter financial difficulties - such as, the scholarship schemes provided by the institution and the schemes run by the Govt. of West Bengal.

Students were also encouraged to join various courses on personality development and career progression courses organized by the institution.

ACADEMIC ADVICE

The faculty suggested that the students should read newspapers, blogs etc. more vividly. Further, watching vlogs, TV programmes etc. should be a part of the daily routine of students.

The students were advised to develop their writing skills; while pronunciations can be improved by reading books – if needed, loudly. Listening radio programmes, BBC news etc. can further develop pronunciation skills.

To overcome nervousness regarding presentation skills, the faculty suggested that the students can practice presentation skills with their parents. As always, the students were also encouraged to reach out to the faculty regarding any difficulty.

PLACEMENTS AND HIGHER STUDIES

This topic was primarily discussed in the PTM for SEM VI.

The parents inquired about the possibility of placements and the options for higher studies post-graduation.

The faculty appraised the parents some of the opportunities and placements facilitated by the institution over the last couple of years.
